SUBJECT: Burroughs Excess Equipment

STAT

1. The attachment is the latest list of Burroughs ADP equipment prepared by Management Staff. After coordination with [redacted] this list was forwarded to Kim Park of TRW in order to verify its accuracy.

2. The information in the attachment reflects the combination of four (4) source documents, all of which varied in content and/or available detail. In developing the list of the Burroughs equipment these documents were used:

STAT

- a. an undated paper listing the Burrough equipment located at the DF which was obtained from [redacted] [redacted] The paper listed the B7821 and (4) B6900s.

STAT

- b. A TRW materiel report of property and tooling for all of the SAFE contract, dated 7 July 82. This report was provided to Bruce Johnson from CSPO as the listing of the Burroughs equipment. This list has the best detail of any of the documents, in that the model identification and manufacturer of each item is provided. It is, however, an internal TRW document and combines all of the SAFE equipment into a single long equipment list without clear breakouts by systems.

- c. An inventory Schedule B (DD543), dated 15 June 1982, provided by CSPO. As far as we know this is the latest contractual document listing the SAFE GFE. The document may not be completely updated to reflect the latest information.

- d. The delivery invoice of the CIA 6900.

3. Correct component listings of all of the Burroughs equipment by system is our first goal. The identification of Burroughs equipment that is not assigned to a particular CPU but could be identified as part of a system is next, and third, a listing of Burroughs miscellaneous equipment that is not associated with the standard Burroughs computer systems.

4. Per discussions with [ ] we are already circulating within ODP the availability of the SAFE PDP 11/34 units with the caveat that SAFE may retain one of the three units.

STAT

5. Other items have also been identified [ ] and listed on a PTI (excess) document and forwarded to MS for circulation to interested components. It is known that these items are of interest to Comsec.

STAT

6. If there are any other items of excess SAFE equipment, other than on the attached list or those already identified by [ ] (the materiel list is the best source), please let us know.
